While at camp, the team will work through a five-day devotional centered around unity and service. Every day will have a nice break with time to rest and enjoy camp between lunch and dinner. The team will need to provide their own transportation and meals on travel days. Arrival at camp will be the afternoon before the first day of camp begins, and departure will be the last day of camp after cleanup. The camp will provide lodging for the team and also has several camper hookups for those who might like to bring their RV. Meals will be provided for the team while camp is in session and the team is cooking for campers. Note: Teams working with children and youth will need to have professional background checks on all members. Team leaders will be sent a Volunteer Team Application and background check information from the camp's Food Service Coordinator.
